A graduation present of a filled-out war savings stamp certificate will be just the thing.

It is getting near the time when the "fight or work" policy will go into effect. Are you ready for it?

While our boys are pouring bullets into the enemy it is up to us to furnish the bullets. We can do it with war savings stamps.

A Vermont contemporary refers to the time "after we pass the 1,000,000,000 troop mark." Germany will certainly think now that we are bluffing.

The loss of Lieut. Baylies, the leading American air fighter in the French flying corps, will cause great regret to the Americans who have been following the career of this intrepid young fighter. It is to be hoped that death was not his lot in his unequal encounter on June 17.

Vermont farmers and gardeners suffered a severe reverse at the hands of the Frost army but they will bring up their reserve energy and present a solid front again. It is quite imperative that there be no lessening of the projected food crop, so all should turn to the replanting with vim.

W. S. S. will send succor. Are you willing to do your part? Subscribe next week for as many war savings stamps as you can pay for during the remainder of the year. The United States government will pay you back in 1923 with interest at 4 per cent compounded quarterly.

The graduating classes of Goddard seminary and Spaulding high school have shown their patriotism, not only by presenting men for service but by bringing substantial gifts for the advancement of war work. They can continue their patriotism best by becoming busily engaged in some productive occupation during the coming summer.

If those who are unfortunate enough to be residents of Vermont during summer should happen to see the booklet "Where to Stop When in Vermont," they undoubtedly would immediately make their plans to tarry a while in the Green Mountain state, for the illustrations printed in the booklet, prepared by the Vermont bureau of publicity, are so attractive that they are very compelling. The bureau of publicity has done a good work for the state in this booklet.

The state department at Washington is undoubtedly on the right track in deciding to gain more complete information about the seizure of the American consulate in Tabriz, Persia, before declaring war against Turkey. It seems scarcely probable that Turkey in her present state of disorganization after four years of warfare and with the balances gradually turning against her chief ally, Germany, would deliberately give such an affront to the United States government. To provoke war with the United States now would be to the disadvantage of Turkey in the final settlement of the great problems of peace. Therefore, there is some reason to expect that the act of seizing the American consulate, as well as the sacking of an American hospital, was the work of some who were not responsible to the Turkish government. Meanwhile the state department should search out the facts with all diligence.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Good trades in wool dress goods at Abbott's.

Charles T. Southgate of South Royalton, a former station agent for the M. & W. R. railroad in Barre, called on friends in the city yesterday and to-day.

The senior girls in the teacher training course at Spaulding have adapted themselves to dressmaking, so to speak, each girl cutting out and stitching her own graduation gown.

Miss Elizabeth Carson, who has been a teacher in the city schools for several years, completed her duties to-day and left for Montreal, P. Q., where she is to reside with her mother, Mrs. T. G. Carson, who preceded her several weeks ago. Mrs. William Brown, formerly a resident of John street, died in Los Angeles May 11, according to information conveyed in a letter received here yesterday. Her demise came suddenly. She leaves her daughter, Mrs. William Rust. Mrs. Brown left Barre six years ago to make her home on the Pacific coast.

Peter Alexander of Patterson street, who is employed as baggage master at the Central Vermont station, and Walter McHugh of Hill street, an employee at the M. & W. R. freight office, will leave the city this evening for Boston to apply for enlistment in the naval radio school. Clarence F. R. Bishop, who has been passing a week's furlough at his home on Washington street, will accompany them to Boston, proceeding later to the naval base at Pensacola, Fla. Edward Jackson, who has been passing a few days at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson of South Main street, will also be one of the party, as he is returning to the naval training station at Newport, R. I.

As truly as Napoleon said, "Armies fight on their stomachs," so also is it true to-day that "Nations fight on their savings."

And this is a war of nations, of people, of every man, woman and child, and each can do some helpful act to win.

The intelligent, patriotic spirit of that silent army of co-laborers who anxiously wait their turn to deposit their savings in this National bank is ample testimony of their willingness to help.

It seemingly is a fact that they fondly regard this bank as their bank — the Nation's bank, and we are exercising every care to make this institution measure up to this standard, a bank truly for the people and their country.
